FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Biotricity changes year-end to move closer to qualifying to list on a National Exchange

REDWOOD CITY, CA – April 25, 2017 – Biotricity, Inc. (BTCY), a medical diagnostic and consumer healthcare technology company dedicated to delivering innovative, biometric remote monitoring solutions, has changed its year-end as it prepares to get ready to pursue a listing on a national securities exchange such as NYSE:MKT or Nasdaq. As certain national securities exchanges would require at least one full year of audited financials of the Company, this step will fulfill that requirement. There are several additional steps that are required before Biotricity can formally begin the process.

Pursuing a national listing is a critical step for the Company because it believes that listing on a national securities exchange will result in greater liquidity, a higher profile, and a larger following among analysts and the public. Given the recent submission of the final 510(k) application for its Bioflux product, Biotricity believes this is the right time to begin this effort. The Company has already engaged Donohoe Advisory to guide them through this process.

Biotricity founder and CEO Waqaas Al-Siddiq commented, "The Company is incredibly excited about kicking off this initiative. A listing on a national securities exchange is an important step for Biotricity as we prepare to commercialize our first medical solution and help drive awareness around the Company and our remote medical monitoring device."
